

 Task 1 – Interjú

What makes you angry?

 I don't often struggle with anger but I get angry if people criticize me a lot, if somebody is rude to me, if I'm very tired, if somebody can speak only about themselves, if the Internet is too slow, if I have to work with unmotivated and unintelligent people, if a schoolmate (who is ill) comes to school, if I'm in a hurry and if somebody stares at me.

How would your classmates describe you?

 I think my classmates would describe me as a patient and positive person, since I have never shouted at anybody, I avoid gossiping and I am always calm, kind and relaxed. I'm sure, or rather I hope, that most of them like me because I'm a good listener, anybody can come to me to tell me their problems.

Can you think of an unforgettable day in your life?

 I'm a lucky person because there are many of them. Perhaps the most unforgettable one was when my little brother was born. My mom was taken to the hospital on 12 February but she wasn't alone, my whole family was waiting in the corridor, my father was on her side. We were extremely excited and a bit frustrated. A few hours later my little brother was born healthy.

 Task 2 – Szituációs feladat

At a party you meet one of your friends (whose role will be played by the examiner). You start talking about an unknown girl you see for the first time. Your friend thinks she is Mike's new girlfriend. Speak for 3 minutes, include the following points:

- ⊕ the party is great,
- ⊕ you don't know the girl who is standing alone but Jane hugged her,
- ⊕ Mike is talking to his ex-girlfriend, Jane,
- ⊕ it doesn't turn out who the girl is.

 You: Hi.

Your friend: Hi. How is the party?

You: It's great.

Your friend: You're right. But I can't imagine who that girl is.

You: Which girl?

Your friend: The girl standing alone by the French window.

You: Any ideas?

Your friend: I haven't seen her before.

You: Neither have I.

Your friend: She is staring at Mike, isn't she?

You: It's too dark to see her.

Your friend: I think she's Mike's new girlfriend.

You: What? Look at Mike, he is talking to his ex-girlfriend, Jane.

Your friend: Kidding?

You: Look. Jane is walking to that girl.

Your friend: Are you serious?

You: What will happen?

Your friend: Jane has just greeted and hugged the girl.

You: I don't believe it.

Your friend: The girl must be somebody else.

You: Sure.

Prompts for the interlocutor:

- > How is the party?
- > The girl standing alone by the French window.
- > I can't imagine who that girl is.
- > I haven't seen her before.
- > Are you serious?
- > I think she is Mike's new girlfriend.
- > Jane has just greeted and hugged the girl.
- > The girl must be somebody else.

TRACK 4

These pictures show different attitudes towards books and places for reading.

Describe and compare the pictures. You will have to speak for 4-5 minutes. Include the following points:

- ⊕ why you think reading is important / not important,
- ⊕ what kinds of books you like to read,
- ⊕ how often and where you read,
- ⊕ the most recent book you've read.

Prompts for the interlocutor:

- > How much time do you spend reading?
- > What are some good books that you have read?
- > Who is your favourite author?
- > How often do you go to the library?
- > How do you choose the books you are going to read?
- > Where can you get books, newspapers and magazines?
- > If a book has been made into a movie, do you usually prefer the movie or the book?
- > Have you ever tried to read a book in English?

 Some people love to read and are great fans of books. They are real bookworms, they read whenever and wherever they can. Reading brings them pleasure, refreshes them and makes them feel relaxed. Generally speaking when these types of people go shopping the only items they look for are books so they have a growing collection of them. Others find this activity incredibly boring and reading sends them to sleep.

In my opinion nowadays many kids and teenagers don't want to read literature. Even if they start a book they lose interest in it. They watch too much television at home or they just prefer playing on the Internet in their free time. Other times they are glued to their phones. However, sometimes they can read all day long but it's just Google, Twitter, and Facebook.

I think reading is important because it develops the mind, the imagination, the creative side of people. If you read you will know about lots of things, you can discover new things. When you read, you can go anywhere in the world. Books, magazines and even the Internet are great ways to learn. TV and computer games have their place, but they are good only for fun.

As a young kid, I used to read picture books, fairy-tale books and adventure stories. I spent much of my free time reading. Nowadays I spend less time reading a book, to be honest. I have to study a lot, so I don't have much free time. I mostly read for studying purposes. I often go to the library. Though I don't always use it to find books, sometimes I simply use the computer facilities to look for information online. I read a lot on the Internet, for example articles on different topics or I read to gather information. But occasionally I like to read a novel or something different.

If I have some free time at the weekend I read for a few hours, or I read before I go to bed. I think if you want to read any time is OK. But when I read I like to focus on the story therefore I can't read for a short time like on a bus or train. I've got lots of unread books at home: fiction, detective stories, fantasy books and so on. Probably I will have to wait a few years to be able to read them.

TRACK 5

How would you describe yourself?

I would describe myself as a fun loving person. When I'm with people I like, I tell jokes and amusing stories that happened to me or to my friends or relatives. I'm someone who can make decisions quite fast, and fortunately I make good decisions most of the time. I'm motivated enough to achieve my goals.

What are your strengths?

I'm energetic, so I work hard every day in order to achieve my goals and go jogging at least 3 times a week. I'm not shy, I can talk in front of large groups of people. I've already found my balance. I'm decisive and good at problem solving. Furthermore, I'm really motivated to learn new things quickly.

How is your memory?

I don't have any problems with my memory. My short-term (or working) memory is as good as my long-term memory. I can remember telephone numbers and addresses even if I don't write them down. Fortunately, I don't forget names neither faces. Sometimes I can recall whole conversations with other people. I usually remember even the scent of a perfume and the taste of a food.

You spend the night at the house of your English friend (whose role will be played by the examiner). You are very hungry and your friend offers to prepare pizza at home because it's cheaper. Accept his idea and offer your help. Speak for 3 minutes, and include the following points:

- ⊕ you are hungry,
- ⊕ you don't want to eat out,
- ⊕ home-made pizza is easy to do,
- ⊕ prepare two smaller pizzas instead of a big one.

You: I'm as hungry as a wolf. Could you give me something to eat?

Your friend: Do you want to eat out?

You: No, I don't want to spend too much on food. I think preparing a pizza is the best idea.

Your friend: Everybody can do it, even beginners like us. It's easy.

You: Well, let's try.

Your friend: What kind of topping would you like on your pizza?

You: I love tomato, corn, ham and cheese.

Your friend: Okay. I don't know what to do because I prefer pepperoni, olives and peppers on it.

You: We can prepare 2 small pizzas instead of just one large.

Your friend: Cool.

You: Let's start by making pizza dough.

Your friend: We have pre-made pizza dough at home.

You: Fine, we can eat earlier.

Your friend: Let's put everything on the pizzas.

You: Shall I prepare your pizza? And you can prepare mine.

Your friend: What a great idea!

You: We are ready. We have to bake them for about 18 minutes.

Your friend: They will be done when the cheese is melted.

Prompts for the interlocutor:

- > Do you want to eat out?
- > Everybody can do it, even beginners like us. It's easy.
- > What kind of topping would you like on your pizza?
- > I don't know what to do because I prefer pepperoni, olives and peppers on it.

Task 3 – Önálló témakifejtés

In this part of the test you will have to speak for 4-5 minutes about clothes and shopping for clothes. You should include the following points:

- ⊕ types of clothes you like,
- ⊕ if you like shopping for new clothes,
- ⊕ how much money you spend on clothes,
- ⊕ your favourite shopping place.

Prompts for the interlocutor:

- > What piece of clothing do you spend your money on the most?
- > What is your favourite brand?
- > What kind of clothes are in fashion now?
- > Where are some good stores to buy clothes?
- > Where is your favourite shopping centre?
- > Do you like to go shopping during the sales?
- > How much time do you spend getting ready to go to school? To a party?
- > When was the last time you got dressed up?

In general, I would say I wear clothes that are suitable for the occasion. So what I wear depends on where I am or where I am going. If I am at school or I am going out with friends I choose casual clothes like jeans and a pullover or hoodie. If I'm going to a special occasion I try to find something appropriate, clothes that are elegant. I always have some favourite pieces of clothing that match the season and my mood. Although they are my favourites, I don't wear them every day until they get worn out. Nowadays I prefer more colourful pieces but there was a time when I used to wear black almost all the time. If I have to name one favourite piece, it is my jean jacket because it is just perfect, it goes with anything.

How much I spend on clothes depends on what I'm buying. For normal everyday use I don't spend too much. I am definitely a saver, so I don't feel so great when I pay a lot for clothes. Usually I try to find cute pieces at a low price. If I need to get something for a special occasion, I generally pay out a bit more. Brand names don't make a big impression on me. Generally I buy whatever I like or clothes which I think suit me.

I know that many people have a lot of fun when they go shopping for clothes. They can waste hours checking out new fashion and trying everything on. It's like a hobby or pastime especially if they go with a friend. I'm not that type; I generally buy clothes when I need them. I only spend more time shopping if I can't make up my mind which clothes to buy. Sometimes there is just too much choice.

One of my favourite shopping places is the shopping mall in the city centre. It's a huge building with 3 or 4 levels. It has a lot of shops, also brand-name shops. Here you can find everything you need including clothes, shoes, jewellery and so on. Clothes shops offer reasonable prices and they have sales regularly all over the year. I prefer the more affordable stores that are still high quality, such as Zara or H&M. Sometimes I just go window shopping. I also like that this shopping mall has a nice atmosphere. There are also cafés and some restaurants where you can stop to eat fast food. It has entertainment facilities such as a cinema and a bowling alley. It's a perfect meeting place with friends for example on a Friday night.

 TRACK 8

Do you get along well with your family?

 I can say that we get on well although our relationship is not perfect. It is important for us to talk about what is going on in our lives. From time to time there are arguments at home and it is sometimes very hard to stay calm during conversations. If there are some problems, we try to overcome them quickly, as a result family ties have become stronger. We support, help and respect one another.

Do you often argue with your parents?

 My parents argue with me more often than I argue with them. It's just the way of the world. I don't want to complain because I know that I'm lucky that my parents raised me, love me, take care of me and want to protect me but I just want to do things in a different way. In addition I can't stand that they talk bad about me to their colleagues and our neighbours.

What does your family do together?

 When I was younger we did a lot of arts and crafts, coloured together in winter, collected leaves in autumn, met other kids and went to the zoo in summer.

Nowadays our activities are very different, we often go hiking and cycling, go on day trips, take long walks, go to indoor water parks, watch movies or have picnics. We would like to try camping and fishing in the future to enjoy nature.

While you are in England, you join a language course. Accidentally you dropped a classmate's (whose role will be played by the examiner) smart phone on the floor. Tell the other person how really sorry you are, speak for 3 minutes, include the following points:

- ⊕ you want to pay for it,
- ⊕ you will have it checked and fixed,
- ⊕ ask if she/he is upset,
- ⊕ you feel terrible.

 You: Oops. Sorry. I have dropped your smart phone on the floor. It was all my fault.

Classmate: Mmmm.

You: I don't know what to say. Let me pay for it.

Classmate: I don't know what the problem is.

You: I will have it fixed.

Classmate: That would be nice.

You: Are you upset?

Classmate: Not really. It's not the first time. It fell in a pond last month.

You: Are you serious?

Classmate: Don't worry so much.

You: I feel terrible, the phone looks brand new.

Classmate: Never mind.

You: Tell me where you bought it so I can get you another.

Classmate: Fixing it will be enough.

You: You are so generous.

Classmate: Here you are, the phone.

You: I'll try to have it fixed in some days. I promise.

Classmate: That's fine.

Prompts for the interlocutor:

- > I don't know what the problem is.
- > It will be nice.
- > It's not the first time. It fell in a pond last month.
- > Don't worry so much.
- > Never mind.

These pictures show different types of entertainment at home. Compare and contrast them. You will have to speak for 4-5 minutes. Include the following points:

- ⊕ why entertainment is important,
- ⊕ the different types of entertainment at home,
- ⊕ the popular forms of entertainment in your country,
- ⊕ the positive or negative effects of entertainment.

Prompts for the interlocutor:

- > What is your favourite form of entertainment?
- > When do you have free time?
- > Who do you spend your free time with?
- > What did you watch on TV yesterday?
- > What kinds of TV programs are most popular in your country?
- > Could you live without a TV? Why/not?
- > What computer games have you played?
- > What kind of music do you like?
- > What kind of things do you like to read?

🔑 Today life is full of stress; everyone is busy with their life. In order to enjoy our lives we need ways to relax and let off some steam. Entertainment can keep life going. Otherwise it becomes very monotonous and dull. Entertainment amuses us and it also gives us pleasure and energy. Entertainment has an influence on people and it has a significant role in their lives.

Entertainment can be of any type. It depends on many things: your mood, your choice, where you live, how old you are, how much money you have and what things you like to do in your free time. Entertainment is mainly through the media like television, magazines and the Internet. I guess the most popular entertainment activities at home are watching films online, on DVD, playing online games and listening to music.

Television has become less popular, young people usually watch only a particular show or programs coming on in seasons. Of course it is also possible to download films from the Internet and enjoy them with a big pack of pop corn and drinks at home. Other free time activities are computer games or even more often console games. Young people can spend long hours gaming. They also pass their time chatting with friends and even with people they hardly know on the Internet. Mostly they use the Internet for fun such as social networking, for example Facebook.

Reading is another good source of entertainment. It is a quite useful habit. It relieves stress and recharges the mind. What's more, it helps to increase your general knowledge, improves your vocabulary and helps to understand the world. Unfortunately, reading is not a very common form of entertainment nowadays.

Music is a great way to reduce the daily stress. Almost everyone is interested in some kind of music. Teenagers listen to music mainly while doing something else. When you sit down with your eyes closed to listen to your favourite music, you get relaxed. Music can give pleasure to a stressed mind. Many teenagers use an iPod or a mobile phone to listen to music but it is possible to watch videos on YouTube and use it as a music player.

Some people say that the entertainment industry has a negative influence on kids. The negative effects are for example that they change the way they dress, walk or act. However, I think nowadays young people can learn a lot when they are watching TV, a movie, using the Internet or listening to music. There must be some sort of entertainment in life to keep boredom away and to make your life more lively and exciting.

Can you imagine your life without pets?

No, I can't. My pets are so important for me that my life would be very different without them. They help me to learn about unconditional love, teach responsibility, improve my mood and physical health, prevent obesity, provide me friendship and protect my house. Dogs also lead blind people safely, help out farmers and hunters.

What pets could you keep even in flats?

Unfortunately, I can't have all pets in flats. Personally, I think I can't keep dogs or cats there but it doesn't mean that I can't have other kinds of pets in flats. According to my and my friends' experiences the best pets are geckos, lizards, rabbits, hamsters, guinea pigs, corn snakes, budgerigars, lovebirds, fish, rats, African snails or ferrets.

Are zoos good or bad places in your opinion?

 Personally, I think keeping animals in captivity has changed a lot during the last 2 or 3 decades. In modern zoos and safari parks animals are not in danger, are not hunted and their illnesses are treated. On the other hand animals are not in their natural habitat and zoos entertain millions of people every year.

You and your friend want to travel to Hastings in summer for a few days. Call a travel agent (whose role will be played by the examiner), ask for information and choose the desired accommodation. Speak for 3 minutes, include the following points:

- ⊙ staying with a host family is expensive for you,
- ⊙ what the facilities of a room in a youth hostel are,
- ⊙ what the price includes,
- ⊙ book the room.

 Travel agent: Good afternoon. Globe Travel Agency. Can I help you?

You: Good afternoon. Me and my friend are thinking of travelling to Hastings for a few days in July. Staying with a host family would be fine.

Travel agent: Let me see. It is not the cheapest but the most practical for foreigners. You can practise English with native speakers.

You: Could you tell me the cost, please?

Travel agent: Well, it's about 600 pounds per person for a week.

You: That's a little bit expensive. Do you have cheaper accommodation?

Travel agent: Certainly. There is a youth hostel on the outskirts. A double room there is only for 450 pounds per week.

You: What are the facilities of the room?

Travel agent: The rooms are fully equipped with TV and kitchenette.

You: Wow. Are there buses to the city centre?

Travel agent: Every hour.

You: Great. What is included in the price?

Travel agent: Only breakfast is included.

You: No problem. I'd like to book a room right now from 1 July to 8 July.

Travel agent: All right.

Prompts for the interlocutor:

- > Good afternoon. Globe Travel Agency. Can I help you?

You can see some pictures of families spending time together. Using the pictures speak for 4-5 minutes about these points:

- ⊕ what you think of when you hear the word 'family',
- ⊕ how large or small your family is,
- ⊕ who you are closest to in your family,
- ⊕ things you like doing together as a family.

Prompts for the interlocutor:

- > Do you prefer spending time with your family or friends?
- > What is the best memory you have of your family doing something together?
- > How often do you have big family get-togethers?
- > Do you live in a nuclear family or an extended family?
- > What are the advantages and disadvantages of these types of families?
- > How close are you to your extended family? (cousins, aunts, great uncles etc.)
- > What do you think is the most important thing to make a happy family?
- > How far back do you know your family tree?

FO The most important word in my life is 'family'. I love my family. So when I hear this word I think of people who are happy together, who love each other. I think of mum, dad, brothers, sisters, grandparents, aunts, uncles, and cousins. They are the people who I can rely on when I need them. I know that my family will always be there for me. We support each other.

I come from a family of three children. I have a sister who is seventeen. Then there's my younger brother, he's fifteen years old. I have my mother and father who are both in their 40s. I have two grandparents as well, but they don't live with us.

The people in my family I love and also admire are my mother and my father. My mother is a very special person and I cannot imagine what I would be without her.

I take after my mother. People always say they can see the similarity between us. My mom is of medium height. She is only about 165 cm tall and she is slim. She has fine, dark hair and a fair complexion. She is generous, caring, kind, helpful and supportive. She has a heart of gold. My father is really a family man. He enjoys being at home with us. He's quite sociable; everybody thinks he's good fun. Thanks to both my wonderful parents, I feel I am really fortunate.

I am together with other members of my family almost every day, I usually eat breakfast with my mother, brother and sister but my father is rarely there. Then, in the evening I usually eat dinner with my sister, brother as well as my parents. Generally, at weekends we spend more time together. Lunchtime is important; we eat together as a family. Sometimes we simply plan to spend the day at home. However, many times we do some kind of activity together, for example we go hiking or cycling. I also like to go shopping with my sister. Activities like these can be fun and relaxing. We also have the chance to chat, discuss important things or make decisions. Once a year we all go on holiday for one or two weeks. Then there are special occasions such as birthdays or important holidays when we have big family get-togethers. Sometimes we plan a trip to visit other family members.

What pets are popular with your friends and family?

 I don't know the number exactly but many of my friends and family members have pets. Those who live in houses or in rural areas have either one dog or a cat. They are the most popular ones, other favourites are birds, parrots, turtles, fish, rabbits, hamsters and guinea pigs.

Why does your family keep pet(s)?

 Firstly, pets help us emotionally, they are good company. My older family members like having pets instead of being alone. Secondly, it is easier for us to start conversations with others in the streets. Thirdly, animals are usually nice or even beautiful. It is usually good for us to stare at the pets sleeping, running, eating, walking or playing. Finally, pets make us more active as we have to look after them, feed them and sometimes even take them for walks.

Do you fear animals?

 I can say that I don't fear of any animals. I have heard of many people who can't overcome their fear of animals and have an animal phobia usually without knowing its source. In most of the cases they are scared of animals like mice, rats, frogs, toads, newts, snakes, spiders, cockroaches, worms or moths.

 TRACK 16

In these pictures you can see different ways of watching films. Describe each picture and speak about the topic for 4-5 minutes. Include the following points:

- ⊕ what movie genre you like best,
- ⊕ if you prefer watching movies at the cinema or on TV,
- ⊕ what things make a great movie a great movie.

Prompts for the interlocutor:

- > In what ways are watching movies at the cinema or on TV different?
- > Which do teenagers prefer? Which one do you prefer? Why?
- > What is your favourite movie? How about your favourite TV show? Why?
- > Which movie has had the greatest impact on your life or has impressed you the most?
- > Have you ever seen the same movie more than once?
- > What genre of movies and TV shows do you tend to watch the most?
- > Who is your favourite actor or actress?
- > Do you like films that are dubbed or do you like watching a film in its original form?

I personally like watching films with my friends or on my own in my free time. Most often I watch a DVD in the evening or I watch a film online. My favourites are fantasy and horror movies but I also like comedies and animated films. I can't stand, for example, science fiction. I actually prefer if a movie has an exciting storyline, good acting, high quality image or sound and realistic special effects.

As I said earlier I really enjoy watching films at home. It is definitely more comfortable. First of all, I can choose what I want to watch and if I get bored with it, I can simply switch it off. Also, I can invite my friends over to my place and we can watch a movie together. Finally, it is much cheaper than going to the cinema. So I would say I am not a cinema goer. However, occasionally I need a change from home and I just want to spend some hours away. When I would like to enjoy a night out with friends we go to the cinema. It has also happened that I couldn't wait until the DVD became available and I wanted to watch a movie premiere. I haven't been to a cinema for a very long time. The last time I went to a movie was maybe two or three months ago. After the film we had dinner at a nearby restaurant and then we returned home.

Although I am not a cinema goer I must admit that the cinema has some advantages. Watching a film in a movie theatre is a completely different experience. It has a more thrilling atmosphere and the big screen brings the characters to life. More and more movies are shot in 3D these days. It means that certain components of the film pop out of the screen and move towards you. Also these films have amazing colours and depth. A few years ago people went to 3D films just to see what it was like. Nowadays it has become more popular and widespread; the blockbusters are all in 3D. Movie makers have developed the 3D technology, so it has become more real. This technology is used not only in movies but in pictures, TV and video games. I have watched a couple of movies in 3D and I have to say that some of the effects were absolutely amazing. Yet, I wouldn't say that I like 3D films. I find the 3D glasses uncomfortable and occasionally I get headaches when I watch a 3D movie.

It's rather difficult to decide what my favourite movie is because there are quite a lot that I could choose from. In general I would say that those films make a strong impression on me which have an amazing plot, lots of action, good actors, special effects or glamorous locations. I also like if a movie is based on a real story. However, I don't watch a film if the story doesn't grab me from the beginning or if I have the feeling that nothing much is going to happen and the movie is too slow. All these things as well as bad acting, bad direction, poor quality or an incredible plot can contribute to a bad movie.

How would you describe your school building?

 My school is located in the city centre. It was built during the 1970s. The school is well-equipped and nicely furnished. The classrooms are airy and light. We have many special rooms like the library with thousands of books, the science labs where we do experiments, the computer labs with new laptops. The gym is in a separate building, it is so big that 2 groups can use it at the same time.

Are there specialised classes at your school?

 My secondary school is a general public school but there are different specialised classes in media, I.T., science, foreign languages, mathematics and art. They attract many students, that's why it was not easy to get into the school, I had to write entrance exams. I specialised in history.

What school rules do you have?

 At school there are rules we have to follow. We must attend all the classes and mustn't be late for school or skip any of the classes. We are forbidden to use our mobiles, eat in class or smoke in the building. Make-up mustn't be worn. Bullying, cyber bullying, bringing knives or any kinds of weapons is strictly forbidden. In fact there are too many rules. There is no one who doesn't break them. I rarely do it myself but I haven't been caught yet.
